

Introduction

Class Contact Book System

In today's Internet-driven world, online resources have become a must-have tool for everyone. As students, we have been using paper contact books since elementary school. However, we are going to switch an online system. Students can access their contact book and important class information in real-time using their smartphones. This also enables parents to stay updated on their child's school activities.

This project also aligns with United Nations' Sustainable Development Goal 12, "SIGNIFICANTLY REDUCES WASTE GENERATION" as it significantly reduces waste generation by schools through the elimination of printed contact books and associated resource consumption.
